On November 26, 2002, Dr. Howard Shelanski spoke by telephone with members of the Wireline Competition Bureau. The WCB participants were William Maher, Jr. (Chief, WCB), Jeff Carlisle (Senior Deputy Bureau Chief), Scott Bergmann (Legal Counsel to the Bureau Chief), Rich Lerner (Associate Bureau Chief and Chief of Staff), Michelle Carey (Competition Policy Division Chief), Torn Navin (Deputy Chief) and Julie Veach (Staff Attorney). The meetings were on behalf of BellSouth, SBC, Qwest and Verizon.

Dr. Shelanski discussed the required impairment analysis for the continued offering of existing unbundled network elements and transition plan considerations for customers currently served via UNEs. He stated that the FCC should not modify its local use and commingling conditions for the conversion of existing special access services to EELs. Finally, Dr. Shelanski discussed the proper regulatory treatment of facilities used to provide both local services and non-local services.
